Green his welcome, and Neptune leaves to come again the next day. Fireworks are put overboard, and as the ship speeds along the fireworks explode, showing the trail of Neptune. The next morning Neptune, accompanied by Aphrodite, comes aft, riding on a gun carriage, and the captain receives them. The captain leads them to the forward bridge, where a canvas is stretched below, filled with water. The candidate is then put through his initiation. When asked his name his mouth is filled with shaving lather, which is followed by the chair being tilted back, allowing the man to slide into the tank of water, where the sea dogs have fun with him.

After the initiations Neptune takes his leave and the crew settles down to its usual routine. It is a ceremony that always takes place when a man-of-war crosses the equator, and many of the new recruits will be taken through the initiation some time before they leave the navy."

GIRLS' INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Programme Rendered at the Closing

The closing exercises of the Girls' Industrial School was held yesterday afternoon at Tomlinson Hall and Mrs. Frank E. Blanchard, president of the school, awarded the prizes. The graduates were Laura Beiss, Ethel Jones, Dorothy Gunkcel, Nona Pearson, Flora Finkbinder, Elizabeth Sager, Carrie Haskins, Alma Sellmeyer, Ida Singleton, Godie Bortlain. The graduates wore dresses which they made themselves. They were of green woolen goods, trimmed with narrow red braid With the simply-made gowns they wore white collars and red four-in-hand ties. For prizes they received the drafting system from which they cut their dresses. For good attendance during the year 150 little girls received books. Prizes were given for the best sewing, a Bible; for best button holes, a framed picture: for best test work, a silk umbrella, and for the greatest improve- | The programme will be as follows: ment during the year, a tollet set. The qualifying rounds for men's and Board of Public Works to-morrow the payement to be used in the improvement of Meridian street, north of Fall creek, will ment and the subsequent activity of the property holders living on North Meridian street who want a wooden block pavement have convinced at least one member of the Board of Works that the adoption of the resolution for asphalt was against the wishes of a majority of the property holders, and he has signified his intention of voting for a modification of the original resolution and then adopting a resolution for wooden block.

The other members of the board have not as yet committed themselves to any definite line of action in the matter, but it is confidently expected that they will also vote for a modification of the original resolution and give the citizens on North Meridian street a wooden block pavement. The meeting to-morrow will probably be largely attended by property holders on both sides of the contention. The asphalt people have not given up their fight by any means, and will oppose the laying of a wooden block pavement as long as they have a chance of being successful. Some of them have declared that they would rather have no

THE WOMEN FOR PEACE.

Several Addresses at the Propylacum -Mrs. Sewall's Report.

A peace conference was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Propylaeum, which was attended by a large number of women. Mrs. May Wright Sewall presided at the meeting and read a report of the seventy peace meetings which have been held recently all over the country. Peace meetings were held in thirteen different States and twenty-eight cities, and over 300 organizations were represented at these meetings. The largest meeting was held the side of the building for about 150 feet, in Detroit, which was attended by 8,340 persons. One hundred and five societies were represented at New York. The smallest peace conference was held in Adrian. Mich. All of the others were largely attended and a splendid success. Mrs. Sewall also read a number of telegrams of congratulation from persons interested in the peace conference who could not attend. Addresses were made during the afternoon by the Rev. J. Cumming Smith, Rev. Lewis Brown, Mrs. Eliza Blaker, Mrs. Mary Moody, Mrs. Philip Rappaport, Mrs. Martha Nicholson McKay, Miss Amelia W Platter and Mrs. John O. Perrin. Several other women made brief remarks. It was voted to hold a peace conference annually on May 18.

He Wanted to Inspect the Workhouse and Was Allowed to Do It.

Floyd Miller, of Lawrenceburg, is locked up at the police station, charged with being insane. Yesterday evening about 7 o'clock he went running into the workhouse and wanted to make an inspection of it. The officers saw that he was insane and complied with his wish by throwing the doors to the prison open and escorting him inside. He explained that it was important that he should make the inspection, and when asked who he was replied, "Jesus." After he was confined to a cell he said his name was "F. W. Miller, Ward X." This led the officers to believe that he was an escaped inmate from the Insane Hospital, but by telephoning there it was learned no one was missing. He was sent to the police station in the patrol wagon. There it was learned that his name was Floyd Miller, and that he had been in the city several days stopping at the home of Mrs. Dexheimer, 119 West Sixteenth street.

Dr. Humphreys.

It is a fact confirmed by the most ample experience that those who habitually resort to Humphreys' Specifics for aid and cure in their illness, have less sickness, better health, better growth, longer and more vigorous lives, than those treated by other methods. The fact is explained in the circumstance that these Specifics, because of the method of their composition, have a deeper and wider range of action than other medicines, and thus constantly tend to eradicate constitutional disease, THE CURES EMBRACE

Headaches, Grip, Catarrh, Neuralgia, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Dyspepsia, Kidney and Urinary Disease, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Piles, Women's Complaints, Infants' Diseases, Rheumatism, and other formidable and oft times
